

We are hiring!

Position available: Graphic designer

We are a small dynamic design agency in north London, who provide bespoke brand and promotional solutions for clients in a wide range of sectors. We act as creative custodians for brand communications spanning online and offline mediums.

We are looking for a confident graphic designer with at least two years commercial experience, who enjoys working in a fun small studio environment.

Under the guidance of other designers you will have the opportunity to test and develop your skills above and beyond your core competencies and develop projects from concept to implementation.

You will have a solid knowledge of print design and production and also have an understanding of web and interactive design and associated programmes.

In the first instance please link to your online portfolio or send your CV and samples for your work as a PDF to jobs@expdesign.co.uk.

You must have:

- a design degree or equivalent
- relevant experience
- fluent/native spoken and written English
- good time management skills
- a great eye for detail
- an excellent contemporary portfolio of your work
- a portfolio balanced both in print and web design
- creative and artwork skills

You need to be:

- able to prepare jobs for repro and confident checking and supplying files for press
- skilled, fast and accurate with Illustrator, InDesign, Photoshop, Acrobat, Flash and Dreamweaver

The closing date for this position is 09 May 2008. No agencies.
